

The Museum of Appalachia

An Evening in Old Appalachia

Experience the sights, sounds, and tastes of bygone days with the nationally acclaimed Museum of Appalachia! Stroll through the past with a leisurely tour of our outdoor folk village; see the farm animals in their natural setting; wander through authentically furnished pioneer cabins; and view some 250,000 mountain artifacts and relics on display. After your tour, sit down to a full Tennessee country buffet dinner in our comfortable banquet hall with barbeque and all the trimmings, then kick back—and kick up your heels—to an hour of lively, foot-stompin' entertainment from our own Museum of Appalachia Band! This package is sure to create a day you and your group will never forget!

Celebrate Southern heritage with the fabulous Museum of Appalachia Band! Old-time fiddle and guitar music, with a little mouth bow and maybe some spoon-playing thrown in—you'll find yourself clapping and singing along and having the time of your life! The Band has performed on the Today Show, Good Morning America, the Nashville Network, and at the private parties of dignitaries and celebrities all over the United States!

The New York Times has hailed the Museum of Appalachia as the “discovery of a way of life.” Recognized by the official Tennessee Blue Book as the “most authentic and complete replica of pioneer Appalachian life in the world,” the Museum, located in Norris, Tennessee, has graced the pages of the National Geographic Traveler, Reader's Digest, Southern Living, and many other national publications. Dress casually to explore the cabins, gardens, and displays of this picturesque living mountain village and working farm.
