

"A Living Mountain Village"

The Museum of Appalachia is a living mountain village and working farm in the southern mountains. Your tour group will enjoy a day of exploring authentically furnished pioneer cabins and in the pioneer village with gardens and a working farm. They will take a stroll down memory lane in our Hall of Fame and Barn with more than 250,000 mountain artifacts and relics on display; see farm animals in their natural setting; and experience southern hospitality at its finest.

After your self-guided tour, your group will sit down to a full Southern Appalachian country buffet in our comfortable banquet hall and enjoy authentic old-time, traditional and bluegrass music from our own Museum of Appalachia Band.

After your meal you can browse our museum gift shop or relax in a rocking chair on our covered porch and enjoy the beautiful scenery.

$34.95 per person includes a self-guided tour, live music program and a delicious Southern Appalachian country buffet!
